

Chamber for optical activity of the means

EQ204F

Function

Varying the target medium, subject to the passage of light, both through pressure reduction and through the addition of a component into the target medium itself.

Used alongside a Michelson interferometer.

